

Press Release

The Interturbine Group is recognized around the world as an approved supplier of consumable materials (chemicals), composites, raw and semi-finished materials to the aerospace and high-tech industry.

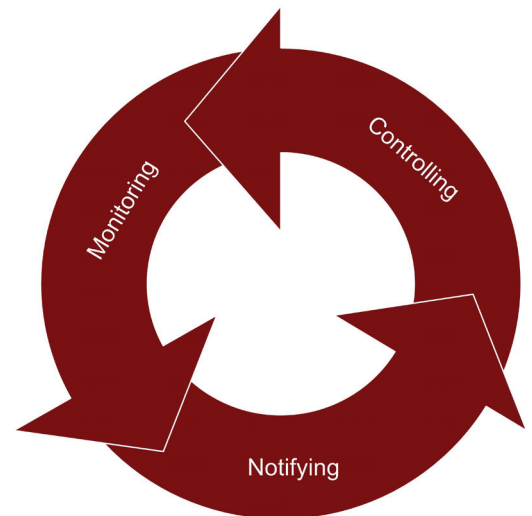

Due to the high service attitude of staff, fast response, global presence and worldwide material handling capability, Airbus, ATR, Embraer, Eurocopter and Dornier have appointed us as their approved fleet distributor.

Interchain® – The Integrated Solution

In order to improve services for our customers even more, we developed an Event Management System called Interchain® together with the University of Aachen.

With this “Interchain® Concept” we will be able to offer our customers the advantage of the integrated solution for their whole order process, starting with material planning, followed by purchase of the material all the way up to shipping and delivery.

Interchain® involves consolidation of 2000 supply sources. Results are tremendous cost savings for our customers in regards to the usual costly and time consuming sourcing process as well as freight handling involved.

On basis of this “Interchain® Concept”, internal and external processes are being supervised and controlled automatically. As a result of this, all materials are available worldwide – tailored to suit customer’s needs within shortest amount of time.
